ZOMBIE APOCALYPSE - INFESTATION FROM MARS A. G. Hough

Marshall Blathsdale was researching an alien substance recovered by the Mars Rover from the surface of Mars. Marshall had found no evidence of potentially infectious pathogens in the ancient Martian microbes but saw on the contrary that the HV6T4 had amazing healing properties when mixed with human DNA. He was sure to get a damn Nobel Peace Prize for this!

So, why were the NASA dweebs busting his chops? They claimed a deadly infestation from the HV6T4 would soon cause any humans that came in contact to turn into Martian zombies! Besides killing everyone that they came across, the HV6T4 zombies had an over whelming desire to procreate with humans to carry on their species.

Lisa unknowing made the mistake of running by a HV6T4 zombie with her two year daughter. The HV6T4 zombie quickly decided that Lisa was obviously fertile and was immediately in pursuit. Time was running out, Lisa had to use her survival skills and get away from all these sex-crazed zombies as soon as possible...
