You can build this simple, beautiful 3-stringed instrument from scrap wood, cardboard, and a few dollars worth of hardware; it will sound absolutely wonderful. And it's much easier to learn than a guitar. Includes stories and background on the designer, Ray Jacobs, always a musician, and formerly a 4th grade teacher in Eureka, MT. Compiled and written by a teaching artist, so that more people can make their own music, more easily and more beautifully!
